Geographic Names.

June 20, 1917.

Mr. C. S. Sloane,
Secretary, U. S. Geographic Board,
Bureau of the Census,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Sloane:

I enclose correspondence with the District Forester of the Forest Service at Portland, Ore., in regard to the naming of Mount Goode, in Chelan County, Washington. There appears to have been a well-established name for this feature; and apparently there has been some confusion in the application of the new name "Goode." I do not know whether this matter requires action by the U. S. Geographic Board; or whether it is rather a question of correcting the location of a name which the Board has approved.

I will appreciate it if you will take such action as you see fit to set the matter right.

Very sincerely yours,

W. B. Peck
Assistant Forester.
